Welcome to Infrastructure Libya 2012 - the International Exhibition & Conference for Libya's Rebuilding Programme to be held under the Patronage of Libya's Ministry of Planning.

Libya General Board of Fairs

INFRASTRUCTURE LIBYA 2012 is licensed by the Libya General Board of Fairs under the authority of the National Transitional Council (NTC). The Organisers are already in consultation with the appropriate ministries of the NTC for their Patronage and support.

Infrastructure Libya 2012 – the International Exhibition for Libya's Rebuilding Programme – is set to take place 23-26 April 2012 at Tripoli's International Fairground.

The Organisers are in consultation with the Libya National Transitional Council, now internationally recognised as the legitimate conduit to the country's future governance.

The Council has established immediate priorities which include rebuilding the Country's infrastructure which has been neglected in recent years and which further suffered during the conflict.

Libya is calling on the international export community to bring much needed expertise and technology to the market across a broad range of sectors, not least:

- building & construction
- public works & municipal engineering
- power & electricity
- transport & communications
- water & environment
- safety & security

The recent freeing up of US$100 billion of Libya's previously frozen assets will immediately contribute to the country's reconstruction plans.

Infrastructure Libya 2012 follows the success of previous exhibitions organised by Dar Alarab in association with Montgomery Libya Ltd, including Project Libya and Oil & Gas Libya.

Ministry of Planning Patronage and support:

Libya's Ministry of Planning has given its Patronage and support to Infrastructure Libya 2012 in a letter addressed to the Organisers.

 The exhibition and conference will address Libya's immediate priorities in terms of technological needs for the Country's national planning and economic progress which is dependent on overseas technology and expertise for the expansion, up-grading and modernisation of its vital infrastructure.

The highest level of support will be encouraged from private and public sector planners, specifiers and procurement officials both as visitors to the exhibition and delegates to the conference.
